UNITEA's backbone is its workforce. Their happiness and wellbeing is a measure of the company's success. UNITEA's commitment to people, customers and the planet, is best reflected in the several international awards and recognitions we have garnered.

UNITEA has always had at its helm farsighted leaders who dared to follow the path less travelled. The best illustration of this would be the experimentation with organic teas, as early as 1994.

Today UNITEA is one of the industry leaders in the production and export of organic teas.

We at UNITEA, believe that our growth is linked with the prosperity of our employees and the communities that we work and live in. To that end, UNITEA's pioneering welfare schemes have certainly captured the imagination of the "tea" world, and once again stand out for it being unique amongst plantations. Our welfare schemes not only enhance and enable the lives of our employees and their families, but also the neighbouring communities, linking us all together in the circle of life.

It has been 101 years of energetic growth, experience and excellence at UNITEA and we still continue to brew the best "cuppa" you ever tasted.
